Death of Young Woman

Last Sunday morning at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Voight, who live below town, Mrs. Josephine Schalehli passed away at the age of 37 years. She leaves a husband and five small children to mourn their loss.

The funeral took place Tuesday afternoon, interment being in Mountain cemetery.

Fined Costs

A small lad from the city, who had been visiting in Sonoma for a few days, was arrested last Sunday for discharging firearms on the county road. He appeared before His Honor, Judge Small on Monday morning, pled guilty and was fined the costs in the case. The boy was loaned a rifle by some other boys and was ignorant of the ordinance, for such cases made and provided.

New Ad.

Read the new ad of L. S. Simmons in another column. He has just received a large invoice of Pure Drugs and a full line of proprietary articles. His prices are right. His goods are reliable, and he is determined to satisfy the trade. Call on him and be convinced. Read his new ad in another column.

Big Array of Counsel

In the suit instituted by Ernest Cleve of Sonoma, against the California Central Gas and Electric Co. for damages on account of alleged injuries, there is a big array of legal talent representing the corporation, including Attorneys Myrick & Deering, Garret McEneaney and W. B. Bosley. R. M. Sims is the attorney for the plaintiff.

New Summer Resort

Carl Romani has been granted a liquor license enabling him to engage in business at Embarcadero. Messrs Romani and Lucini, are the new owners of the Goodman place there, and will conduct a first class summer resort.

Both Mr. Romani and Mr. Lucini were in business in the metropolis but sold out their interests there to come to favored Sonoma Valley to reside permanently.

Athletic Sports

After a close and most exciting contest between two evenly matched teams the Santa Rosa High School athletic team gave her oft repeated victorious enemy, the Oakland High School athletic team, complete defeat at the field day Saturday at the Pierce Bros. race track, the score being 68 1/2 to 28 1/2.

The day was not at all favorable for athletics, as the wind blew intermittently interfering with all the events, as well as prohibited last time. Several times the rain almost forced the abandonment of the game but the storm finally cleared. As a result of the showers the track was slightly slow for the runners.

We are not at all surprised at the victory of the S. R. H. S. Team because it contained a popular Sonoma boy, Campbell MacQuiddy, an all round athlete who never held candles for any body nor engaged in the business "of playing second fiddle."

Campbell tied the coast record of 52.5 seconds for the 50-yard dash, with the wind and pouring rain against him. Hurrah for Sonoma!

Passed Away

A. S. Lord, a highly respected resident of Sonoma Valley, passed away at his home near El Verano on Friday last.

He was a native of Canada where he was born in 1823.

Deceased was a carriage builder by trade, and an excellent workman. The funeral took place from his late residence on Sunday at 2 p. m. Rev. Rowe officiating.

Interment was in Mountain cemetery.

LOCAL ITEMS

To-day it will be the proper thing to wear the green in honor of the Patron Saint of Ireland, St. Patrick.

H. F. Lord, the new tailor, in the Caster building on Napa street, Sonoma, will make you a good satisfactory suit for less than you can get it elsewhere.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wainwright were in San Francisco on Sunday.

Attorney R. A. Poppe had legal business in Santa Rosa on Monday.

The preliminary examination of M. Chelini, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, will take place before Justice of the Peace J. B. Small, on Wednesday, March 22 at 2 p. m.

A. F. Wade of San Francisco, spent Saturday and Sunday with Sonoma relatives.

Avoid fire scares, insurance jacking up, city fire expense, danger to the life of your family when you are away from home, by having your flues and chimneys scraped with steel scrapers by Jeffers, 350 Second St., Santa Rosa. Orders left here.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Clerici will occupy their new home on Second St. East, in the near future.

S. Ciucci of the Toscano, recently won a new hat on a wager. He expects to don the new bonnet for the first time to-day, St. Patrick's Day, March 17. "There's nothing too good for the Irelandaise."

Mrs. Homer of San Francisco, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. Gooss, here on Sunday last.

F. Clerici, brother of A. Clerici, of the Sonoma News Depot, arrived in Sonoma from Como, Italy, on Sunday evening. It took only sixteen days to make the trip. The meeting between the brothers was a happy one, indeed.

The W. O. W. of Petaluma, will hold memorial services there on Sunday, April 9, in honor of the late head consul, F. A. Falkenberg. Dr. Estes will be the principal speaker of the occasion. Nearby camps of Woodmen are planning to attend.

The local camp of Woodmen of the World have changed their meeting night to the fourth Monday of each month.

Martino Rampoldi, a former Sonoma resident, who was injured at the brick yard near San Rafael a few weeks ago, died last week in St. Mary's hospital, San Francisco. The funeral took place Sunday in Santa Rosa.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Michelsen and Mrs. Wicker of San Francisco, were guests at the Rufus home Saturday and Sunday.

H. C. Lutgens spent Sunday with his family in Sonoma.

A young man took his best girl to church and stopping at the end of one of the back pews turned to the usher and said: "I guess we will squeeze in here." "Yes," said the usher with a smile, "I guess you can, but probably it will be better for all concerned to wait until you get home."

Oscar L. MacQuiddy of Santa Rosa spent Sunday with Sonoma folk.

Now is the time to contract with Jeffers to wash residence and store windows by the month. Orders left at this office or sent by mail will receive prompt attention between the 20th and 26th of each month for the season.

Miss Hattie Gaines is reported improving right along since the recent operation in San Francisco for appendicitis.

Mr. Penny of San Francisco, has been the guest of Friend McHarvey this week.

C. Kestler was here this week looking after the building of his new brewery. Simple and appropriate ceremonies marked the laying of the corner stone last Friday. Mr. Kestler and family have rented the Schuster house on First Street East and expect to move here to reside permanently in a few days.

If you want some good news, read what G. H. Hotz has to say in his new ad in another column.

Miss Eva Frazer went to San Francisco Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. Eliza Veeder Dow has been in Sonoma a few days this week in the interests of "Success Magazine."

H. Rubke of Schellville attended to legal business in Santa Rosa Tuesday.

Get your flues scraped with steel scrapers by Jeffers, of Santa Rosa, 50c. Leave orders here.

Mrs. A. Clerici and Mrs. Martini attended the funeral of the late Mr. Rampoldi in Santa Rosa last Sunday.

O. P. Palestine and family will occupy the Burk house on Broadway.

See the new tailor, H. F. Lord, pick out your cloth, and order your next suit. Prices $12.50, $15, $18, and upwards. Perfect fit and good workmanship guaranteed.

Jolly Reunion of Class of '04

The class of '04, Sonoma Valley Union High School, had a pleasant reunion at the home of Miss Fraser last Friday evening.

Reminiscences of old (?) school days were in order, entertaining games were played, after which adjournment was taken to the dining-room, tastefully decorated with flowers and the class colors, blue and white. A table well laden with an abundant variety of toothsome dainties, tempted the company to get busy without being urged in the least.

Those present on this very happy occasion were: Misses Emma Campbell, Hazel Switzer, Ruth Poppe, Messrs. Raoul Emparan, John Lawlor, Jr., Robert Prussia, Gildo Baigalupi, Roy Pauli, and the faculty, Prof. Montgomery, T. A. Lewis, and Miss Maud Fraser.

Has Faith in Sonoma's Future

The unprecedented boom in Sonoma Valley has attracted the attention of men of shrewd business ability and large capital. The latest rumor to gain credence here is that President A. W. Foster of the C. N. Railway, was negotiating for the purchase of Boyes' Hot Springs near Sonoma, and contemplates building a large modern hotel at the springs. The property is very valuable and with proper development can be made to bring in big returns for the investment.

President Foster recently purchased the Fair ranch of 10,000 acres near town; also a large tract in Berryessa Valley between Sonoma and Napa.

Otis Eastman Dies at the Age of Ninety-Nine

Otis Eastman, a pioneer resident of the city of Petaluma passed away in the King's Daughters Home on Saturday night at the age of ninety-nine years. He was the oldest voter in Sonoma county and probably in the state. It was his ambition to live to pass his one hundred birthday. Up to a year ago he was in the full possession of his faculties. Mrs. S. D. Whitney of Petaluma is a daughter of the deceased and a son resides in Humboldt county.

The Storm.

The late stormy weather was general throughout the State and did a great deal of good everywhere. The rainfall in Sonoma as reported by U. S. Weather Bureau Official, Robt. Hall is as follows:—

For the storm, 2.25 inches, Previously reported 21.89.

The total for the season 24.14 in. Up to the first of March, last year the seasons fall was 20.65 inches but 10.50 inches fell during the month making a total for the last season to April 1 1904, of 31.15 inches.

It will have to rain considerable more than usual this month to equal the total fall of last season. However plenty of rain has fallen and finer crops of all kinds than usual are confidently predicted.

Early Morning Fire.

Fred Schell suffered loss by fire last Monday morning, of a new brooder house and about 100 young chicks.

The fire started at about 6 a. m. and is supposed to have been caused by the explosion of a lamp. The loss Mr. Schell states will not exceed $12 or $14.

Sondag & Son Tailors

J. Sondag and son, A. Sondag have again entered into partnership in the tailoring business in San Francisco. The elder Sondag has entirely recovered from the injury to his right arm.

Owing to the large increase in their business, Sondag & Son have found it necessary to employ more men and secure a larger place.

They will fit up a modern tailoring establishment on Kearny St. San Francisco.

Tragedy Averted.

"Just in the nick of time our little boy was saved" writes Mrs. W. Watkins of Pleasant City, Ohio. "Pneumonia has played sad havoc with him and a terrible cold set in besides. Doctors treated him, but he grew worse every day. At length we tried Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, and our darling was saved. He's now sound and well." Everybody ought to know, it's the only sure cure for Coughs, Colds and all Lung diseases. Guaranteed by Shoults & Co. Druggist. Price 50c and 1.00. Trial bottles free.

Many so-called political plums prove to be only sour grapes.

Cured Hemorrhages of the Lungs. "Several years since my lungs were so badly affected that I had many hemorrhages," writes A. M. Ake, of Wood, Ind. "I took treatment with several physicians without any benefit. I then started to take Foley's Honey and Tar, and my lungs are now as sound as a bell. I recommend it in advanced stages of lung trouble." Foley's Honey and Tar stops the cough and heals the lungs, and prevents serious results from a cold. Refuse substitutes. Sold by L. S. Simmons Druggist.

Only a fool goes around looking for trouble; the other fellow has more than enough of it thrust upon him.

Women's Kidneys. Women are more often afflicted with kidney disorders than men, but attribute the symptoms to diseases peculiar to their sex, while in reality the kidneys are deranged. Nervousness, headache, puffiness of the face, pain in the back, are signs of kidney trouble that must not be ignored, or a serious malady will result. Foley's Kidney Cure has restored the health of thousands of weak, nervous, broden down women. It stops irregularities and strengthens the urinary organs. It purifies the blood and benefits the whole system. Sold by L. S. Simmons Druggist.

A woman invariably laughs at her husband's silly jokes just before she attempts to make a touch.

It Saved His Leg. P. A. Danforth of LaGrange, Ga. suffered for six months with a frightful running sore on his leg; but writes that Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured it in five days. For Ulcers, Wounds, Piles, it's the best salve in the world. Cure guaranteed. Only 25c. Sold by Shoults & Co. Druggist.

"A woman's mind may be as broad as her intellect, but it is seldom as long as her tongue."

Working Overtime.

Eight hour laws are ignored by those tireless, little workers—Dr. King's New Life Pills. Millions are always at work, night and day curing Indigestion, Bileousness, Constipation, Sick Headache and all Stomach, Liver and Bowel troubles. Easy, pleasant, safe, sure. Only 25c at Shoults & Co. Druggist Sonoma, Cal.

The man who can't trust himself always thinks other people ought to trust him.

Death rate in New York and Chicago.

During November and December, 1903, one fifth of the deaths in New York and Chicago were from pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs and prevents pneumonia, so do not take any chances on cold wearing away when Foley's Honey and Tar will cure you quickly and prevent serious results.

Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

A man could find fault if he will and a woman will find fault if she can.

Invaluable for Rheumatism.

I have been suffering for the past few years with a severe attack of rheumatism and found that Ballard's Snow Liniment was the only thing that gave me satisfaction, and tended to alleviate my pains. March 24th, 1902, John C. Degnan, Kinsman, Ill. 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

A first-class photograph ought to speak for itself.

S. L. Apple, ex-Probate Judge, Ottawa Co., Kansas, writes: "This is to say that I have used Ballard's Horehound Syrup for years, and that I do not hesitate to recommend it as the best cough syrup I ever used." 25c 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

Cater to the average man's vanity and the rest is easy.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all the other diseases put to gether, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials.

Address: J. F. CHENEY & Co., Toledo, Ohio.

Sold by Druggists, 75c. Take Hall's Family Pills for constipation.

More Riots. Disturbances of strikers are not nearly as grave as an individual disorder of the system. Overwork, loss of sleep, nervous tension will be followed by utter collapse, unless a reliable remedy is immediately employed. There's nothing so efficient to cure disorders of the Liver or Kidneys as Electric Bitters. It's a wonderful tonic, and effective nerve and the greatest all around medicine for run down systems. It dispels Nervousness, Rheumatism and Neuralgia and expels Malaria germs. Only 50c, and satisfaction guaranteed by Shoults & Co. Druggist.

Women are ashamed to part their hair in the middle since men with lopsided brains have taken to wearing theirs in that style.

Give Health, Vigor and Tone. Herbine is born for sufferers from anemia. By its use the blood is quickly regenerated and the blood becomes normal. The drooping strength is revived. The laager is diminished. Health, vigor and tone predominate. New life and happy active results. Mrs. Belle Shirel, Middleborough, Ill., writes: "I have been troubled with liver complaint and bad blood and have found nothing to benefit me like Herbine. I hope never to be without it. I have wished that I had known of it in my husband's lifetime." 50c. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

If a young man kisses a girl she doesn't want him to tell of it—but she is disappointed if he doesn't repeat it.

Cured Consumption. Mrs. B. W. Evans, Charwater, Kan., writes: "My husband lay sick for three months. The doctors said he had quick consumption. We procured a bottle of Ballard's Horehound Syrup, and it cured him. That was six years ago and since then we have always kept a bottle in the house. We cannot do without it, for coughs and colds it has no equal 25c, 50c and $1.00. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, California.

Never Judge a man's thoughts by what he says.

The Original. Foley & Co., Chicago, originated Honey and Tar as a throat and lung remedy, and on account of great merit and popularity of Foley's Honey and Tar many imitations are offered for the genuine. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered as no other preparation will give the same satisfaction. It is mildly laxative. It contains no opiates and is safest for children and delicate persons. Sold by L. S. Simmons, Druggist, Sonoma, Cal.

RAISED CHICKENS

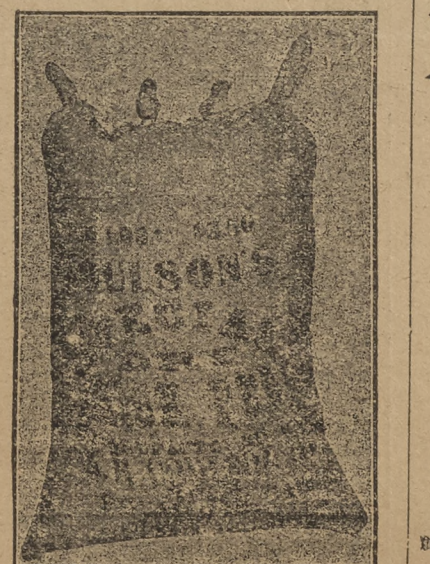

I fed COULSON'S DRY CHICK FOOD three times a day for three weeks, and out of 394 chicks I lost only TWO, and all are doing fine. Now, chicken raisers in this locality are wondering at my success, and I am praising COULSON'S FOOD as much as I know how.

(Signed) F. E. Heusel, Half Moon, Bay

Let us remember that what makes others successful will make us successful that's what we are after—

SUCCESS

If these other fellows can have such good success raising chickens on COULSON'S SPECIAL DRY CHICK FOOD, so can we. I want to raise a few thousand chicks this year and I will give this Coulson's Chick Food a trial. I can get it at the feed store for $3.50 a 100 lbs. and if I take 500 or 1000 pounds, I can get it for a little less than that. I guess I will go up to the store and take a look at this feed and perhaps get a ton of it.

You will have the best success you ever had in raising chickens if you'll feed COULSON'S SPECIAL DRY CHICK FEED. Send for sample. It's good for turkey's as well. THE ADDRESS IS Coulson Poultry & Stock Food Co. INCORPORATED. Capital Stock $100,000 730-734 Main Street, PETALUMA, CAL.

Gems In Verse
Fall Crick Views on Earthquakes.
I kin hump my back and take the rain,
And I don't kee how she pours;
I kin keep kind o' ca'm in a thunder-storm.
No matter how loud she roars;
I haint much skeered o' the lightning,
Ner I haint a bit of a shaker.
Afeard o' cyclones—but I don't want none
O' yer dad burned old earthquakes!
As long as my legs keeps steady,
And long as my head keeps plumb
And the bulid' stays in the front lot
I still kin whistle some!
But about the time the old clock
Plops off'n the mantelshelf
And the bureau scoots for the kitchen
I'm a-goin' to scot myself!
Plague take, of you keep me stabled
While any earthquakes is around
I'm just like the stock—I'll beller
And break for the open ground!
And I low you'd be as nervous
And in just about my fix
When your whole farm slides from under you,
And only the mortgage sticks!
Now, care haint a-goin' to kill you
Ef you don't drive 'cross the track;
Creditors never 'll jerk you up
Ef you go and pay 'em back.
You can stand all moral and mundane storms
Ef you'll only jist behave,
But a earthquake—well, ef it wanted you,
It 'ud husk you out o' yer grave!
—James Whitcomb Riley in "His Pa's Romance."

My Colorado Bedroom.
My Colorado bedroom has no limit to its wall.
Its roof is in the heavens, and the heavy dew that fall
Sprinkle floor and lawn and carpet, paint the colors in the roses
That blooms around my bedroom and blossoms in the snows.
My Colorado bedroom is as broad as it is long;
It was built by the Creator with foundation stones
God Almighty laid the corners, spread the carpet on the floor
That changes as the seasons change with everything outdoor.
My Colorado bedroom has no lock upon its door,
No curtains on its windows and no chairs upon its floor.
The smoke goes through the ceiling, and, as I rest from care,
I'll never find a sweeter place when I get over there.

My Colorado bedroom is out in the open air;
There's no mortgage on its freehold and no landlord anywhere;
The snow blows through the attic, but the sun shines in the door,
Sitted down through angels' fingers and spread out upon the floor.
My Colorado bedroom is very dear to me,
With the silent stars above it shining like an astral sea.
And when this life is over and the peary gates I see,
May I rest within its bosom—it is heaven enough for me.

A RATTLESNAKE'S BITE.
How, Under Some Conditions, It May Not Kill.
It may seem absurd to claim that there are cases where the bite of a rattlesnake is not fatal, yet such have happened, and to understand these it is necessary only to understand the manner in which this reptile strikes.
The spectacle of a rattlesnake at bay is one a beholder never forgets. The great, long body is coiled in a tense spiral, the very embodiment of violence. Pulsed in air, the white bellied fore body is bent into a horizontal S, rigid as an iron bar. Railed from the middle of the spiral is the tail, quivering like a twanged banjo string and emitting a rattle like steam escaping from the pet cock of a radiator or like the sound of a moving machine in a distant hayfield. Aye inspiring, the dread flat, triangular hood, eyes gleaming black and cold as ice steel, is ready to strike. As the greasy mouth opens wide and pink, the long, thin poison fangs arise from a horizontal position and stand upright like a pair of slender, curved, needle pointed shad-bones, ready for business. Like a flash, far too quick for the eye to follow, the snake strikes, sending home its fangs an inch or two, and in that same fraction of an instant he has squirted a tablespoonful of canary yellow, viscous fluid into the wound and lies coiled ready for a second attack.
In this incomprehensibly swift attack lies the answer why sometimes the bite of a rattler is not fatal, for so wonderfully swift is the attack that a bite may be imperfect, leaving only a pair of tiny needle punctures with just enough venom to make a victim seriously ill.
Another reason why a rattlesnake's bite is not always fatal is that temporarily the reptile may be without venom. The snake may have exhausted its poison on a previous enemy, in which case it would have to wait several days before the deadly fluid has regenerated, or, again, the viper's fangs may have suffered accident. They may have been broken off and require time for new growth. In any case, certain it is that a rattlesnake's poison applied in the proper way will do its work, and then only the most expert and prompt assistance will save a victim.—A. W. Rolker in Pearson's Magazine.

KEEP THESE IN MIND.
The power of kindness. It was when all coercive measures fail.
The dignity of simplicity. When the "frills" are off the man is "on."
The wisdom of economy. The man who saves makes more than he saves.
The pleasure of working. The only really unhappy, rich or poor, are the idle.
The influence of example. Practice does more than precept in showing the way.
The worth of character. In the last analysis the only real value is a clear conscience.
The success of perseverance. "Keeping everlastingly at it" brings the hoped for result.
The value of time. Lost capital may be restored by diligent use of experience. Time lost is lost forever.
The obligation of duty. Your concern should not so much be what you get as what you do for what you get.—New York Commercial.

When to Find Them.
Blinkins—No, sir, I tell you most friends are uncertain. I want friends who will be friends in need. Hodges—Take a fool's advice, old man, and look for them before you need them.—Brooklyn Life.

People Who Are In the Public Eye
It is whispered that James Hazen Hyde, whose connection with the Equitable Life Assurance society has caused a controversy in that corporation, aspires to be ambassador of the United States to France some day. His prominence in the life insurance concern founded by his father, the late Henry B. Hyde, has not prevented him from giving attention to many matters quite outside the realm of business, and among these are the study of the French language and literature. He is president of the Federation of the Alliance Francaise in the United States, has distinguished himself in various ways by his efforts to encourage the study of French in America, and has been decorated an official of the French Legion of Honor in recognition of his work. Recently he won fame by giving a ball in which a fete at Versailles in the time of Louis XIV. was reproduced, the guests wearing costumes of that era. Mr. Hyde is twenty-nine years of age and has a trim, well knit figure which shows off to advantage, as he is a very careful dresser. He wears his hair pointed in the French style, and it is said his ties cannot be matched anywhere outside of Paris. He is much interested in coaching and is reputed one of the best whips in America. The freedom with which he spends his money on this diversion may be judged by the fact that on his splendid country place at Islip, on Long Island, are stables in which the cases for harnesses and saddles are of carved mahogany. Mr. Hyde and his mother and sister own 510 of the 1,000 shares of the Equitable and practically control the corporation, which has assets of $413,000,000. The capital stock of the company is only $100,000.

JOHN H. HYDE.
The police commissioner of New York, William McCauley, recently ordered a shift of men in important positions in the department, and among those transferred was Inspector George W. McClusky, who is said by his friends to know more about crooks than any other man in the country. In the time of Inspector Byrnes he and another clever detective named "Tins" were known as "Byrnes' twins." When "Big Chief" Devery was in command of the New York police force he did not get along very well with McClusky. He called him "Chesty George," in allusion to his fondness for being well dressed and putting on a smooth front. It was because of his dressing so well and carrying himself with the air of a Wall street banker that McClusky was frequently detailed for special service at society functions in New York and Washington.

INSPECTOR MCCLUSKY.
He has at different times been in charge of the New York detective bureau. Some years ago, when he was succeeded in that position by a fellow officer, his friends on the force revived that once popular song of Magpie Cline, "Throw Him Down, McClusky!"
He was transferred recently from the detective bureau to the borough of the Bronx. Shortly before the transfer occurred a detective named Flay appeared before Magistrate Crane.
"By the way, officer," said the magistrate, "who is at the head of the detective bureau?"
"Inspector McClusky," Flay replied.
"Well," rejoined the magistrate, "if you ever heard of his detecting anything, I haven't."
"I think he is the greatest detective chief New York ever had," Flay declared.
"Then give my respects to the 'greatest detective chief New York ever had,'" said the court, "and tell him for me that he can clean out every thief in this city in twenty-four hours if he wants to."

PRINCE LOUIS.
Intermarriages between royal families in Europe sometimes bring about peculiar relationships. Prince Louis Alexander of Battenberg, who is to visit New York soon in command of the second cruiser of the squadron of the British navy, is related closely to several crowned heads. He is a nephew of the king of England and a grandson of the late Queen Victoria. He married his cousin, Princess Victoria, who was a daughter of Queen Victoria's daughter Alice. He is a nephew of the late empress of Russia and a brother-in-law of the czar, a brother-in-law of Prince Henry of Prussia and a native of Austria.
When he was born in 1850, he was both a German name and title. He became naturalized as a British subject when he entered the navy. Prince Louis recently became a rear admiral and is head of the intelligence department of the navy. The second cruiser squadron is reputed the fastest in the world, and the Prince of Wales is in supreme command of it. It will be inspected by King Edward before starting on its cruise to American waters. The flagship of Prince Louis is the Drake.
William Jennings Bryan, while making a stump tour in 1904, found he would be compelled to wait half an hour or more for his train, says the New York Herald. Taking a seat in the waiting room, he drew forth a cigar and lighted it. Just then a porter entered and, pointing to a sign, said, "I beg your pardon, sir, but you see that smoking is not allowed here."
"Well," replied Mr. Bryan, "I suppose that rule is not always strictly enforced."
"Oh, no, sir; neither is the one along side of it," said the man, with a grin. The orator glanced at it and read: "Employees of this railway are not permitted to accept tips."

Mr. Bryan finished his cigar undisturbed.

An exciting scene occurred in the house of representatives when Congressman William R. Hearst of New York charged Congressman John A. Sullivan of Massachusetts with being a homicide. A newspaper owned by Representative Hearst had attacked Mr. Sullivan, and the latter replied in a speech in the house, which bristled with sharp and cutting remarks. Mr. Hearst retorted by denouncing his opponent as one who had assisted in "kicking a man to death in a saloon." Mr. Sullivan, like another John Sullivan of greater fame, is a Bostonian. He was born at the Hub in 1838, educated in the public schools, the Boston High school, Boston university and the Boston University Law school, has served in the Massachusetts legislature and in the Massachusetts senate and in 1902 was elected to congress as a Democrat. Last fall he was re-elected. It was when he was a boy of seventeen that the incident occurred to which Mr. Hearst referred. Sullivan's father kept a small hotel, to which a bar was attached. A former prize fighter, who was intoxicated, tried early one Sunday morning to enter the bar. On being refused admittance a scuffle with the elder Sullivan ensued. Young Sullivan went to his father's aid, and the pugilist was driven off. Several days afterward he died. A grand jury brought in an indictment for manslaughter against both father and son, and the former was sent to the penitentiary. The son was released on account of his youth and the circumstances in which he took part in the fight. After the father had been in prison for a year and a half it was alleged that the pugilist did not die from injuries received at the hands of the Sullivans. The imprisoned man was thereupon pardoned. Representative Sullivan says he did nothing he would not do over again under the same circumstances.

JOHN J. ESCH.
Representative John Jacob Esch of Wisconsin has had the honor of giving his name, in connection with Mr. Townsend of Michigan, to the most important measure passed in congress during the present session, the Esch-Townsend bill for regulating railroad freight rates. He is a member of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce, which was charged with drafting a bill on this subject for presentation to the full house. The bills drawn by Messrs. Esch and Townsend were thought to carry out best the recommendations of the president's message, and they were in consequence combined in the measure reported by the majority of the committee.

Mr. Esch is from a state where the subject of regulating railroad rates has been an issue for some years. He was born in Monroe county, Wis., in 1861 of German parents. Sparta, Wis., has been his residence since boyhood. He graduated from the high school at that place and also from the state university at Madison. He engaged for three years in teaching, taking up meanwhile the study of law, and graduated from the law department of the state university in 1882. He was city treasurer of Sparta in 1885, has been active in the national guard of the state and was formerly acting judge advocate general, with the rank of colonel. This is his third term in the house of representatives.

SENATOR BEVERIDGE.
When Senator Beveridge of Indiana was making his closing speech on the statehood bill he said: "Some of the senators have been trying to prove that things exactly similar are different. They remind me of the young woman who was called on to defend her sex against the charge that no woman on earth can keep a secret."
"We can too!" she exclaimed. "It isn't the woman that gives away the secret. It is the people she tells it to that let it out!"

The Deadly Tarantula.
The poison of the Mygal species of tarantula is of a fearful nature—more dreaded than that of a rattlesnake, and unless only slightly scratched and heroic measures used the result is fatal. Many deaths are on record caused by these spiders. The most prolonged suffering was that of a San Diego woman. A tarantula sunk its fangs in her hand during the night. The flesh was cut away with a razor and medical assistance summoned at once. Her life was prolonged for a time as well as her sufferings. For three months she lingered under the effects, her hands constantly creeping and crawling along the bedding in horrible imitations of the motions of the tarantula.
